Hello! Dear students,

Getting to know another culture is an inexhaustible source of personal enrichment. Communicating with others in another language helps us learn more about our native language and about our origins.

Teaching Italian is a passion I have always had since I was a child, and for me teaching means growing as a teacher and as a person. During my classes we will learn, write in Italian and talk about cultural differences while we happen to come across some funny stories.

My interests outside the classroom are gardening, cooking and traveling.

I hope to see you in my class!

Arrivederci!
