

DR. EVA HEISLER

Collegiate Professor

PRONOUNS

she, her, hers

SUBJECT AREAS

Art history
Humanities
Writing

EDUCATION

PhD, History of Art, The Ohio State University
MA, English, Syracuse University
BA Creative Writing and Literature, Kirkland College

TEACHING LOCATIONS

RAF Lakenheath, UK

EMAIL

eva.heisler@umgc.edu

Dr. Eva Heisler is a Collegiate Professor currently teaching art history, humanities, and writing in the UK. She has been teaching for UMGC since 2000, first in Iceland, followed by nearly two decades in Germany, and now in the UK. Dr. Heisler is active as both a poet and art historian, and her writing and research has been supported by the Fulbright Program, the National Endowment for the Humanities, MacDowell, Millay Arts, and the American Academy in Rome.

Dr. Heisler began teaching for UMGC while living in Reykjavik, conducting research, curating, and serving on a fifteen-member team in charge of preparing a five-volume History of Icelandic Art (National Gallery of Iceland, 2011). Since then, her essays on global contemporary art have appeared in academic journals, art magazines, and museum catalogues. In addition, Dr. Heisler has published two books of poetry, Reading Emily Dickinson in Icelandic (Kore Press) and Drawing Water (Noctuary Press). Literary honors include the Discovery/ The Nation Prize and the Poetry Society of America's Emily Dickinson Award.

Dr. Heisler believes teaching for UMGC is rewarding and invigorating. She appreciates the range of experiences and perspectives UMGC students bring to the classroom and strives to help students frame and more deeply understand their own experiences and traditions within larger cultural and professional contexts.