UMGC EUROPE Commencement 2021

UMGC EUROPE COMMENCEMENT 1 MAY 2021

In 1949, the University of Maryland Global Campus (UMGC) was the only pioneering institution to send seven professors to teach military students in postwar Germany. This deep–rooted tradition of serving the military in war and peace continues to this day.

This year, we are proud to celebrate our 72nd year of delivering higher education overseas to U.S. military servicemembers and their families, exemplified through the incredible achievements of our students.

UMGC was founded in 1947 as the College of Special and Continuation Studies, a branch of the University of Maryland's College of Education, with locations in College Park and around the state. In 1949, UMGC became the first university to send faculty overseas to educate active-duty military personnel in Europe. What started off as a noble experiment, with seven professors in six cities in Germany, has turned into a globally-recognized, award-winning institution that includes graduates from all 50 U.S. states, the District of Columbia, and over 20 countries and territories worldwide.

UMGC Europe is proud to be in a continued partnership with the U.S. government and the state of Maryland to provide quality education to nearly 14,000 students annually in 16 countries and 50+ locations in Europe, the Middle East, and North Africa. We are wherever the military is, whether permanently stationed or deployed. Times have changed since those first classes in war-torn buildings 72 years ago. Now we deliver courses both on-site and online using cutting-edge technology, tailored class schedules for individual military units, and innovative live streaming formats at many locations.

More than one million servicemembers have taken UMGC courses. This long relationship has made the university particularly sensitive to the needs of the military community and has prepared UMGC to handle key details, including veterans benefits and the transfer of credit earned in military specialty schools. By proving that high standards of excellence can be maintained in nontraditional settings, UMGC has established itself as an integral part of military life.

Students graduating from UMGC Europe in the Class of 2021 have earned 546 associate degrees, 657 bachelor's degrees, and 214 master's degrees. Graduates represent U.S. military communities across the European, Central, and Africa Commands, with many having served or currently serving in war zones. Worldwide over 14,000 graduates will have earned a UMGC degree this year.

Today, UMGC remains committed to the same unifying mission, offering a high-quality education that is affordable and accessible, while meeting critical workforce needs and accommodating the busy lifestyles of adults in the 21st century and the modern U.S. Armed Forces.

We are honored to celebrate 72 years of providing quality education to extraordinary students overseas, including those here today who have achieved an important educational milestone in their lives.

UMGC LEADERSHIP

ANDREW D. BOONE ASSOCIATE VICE PRESIDENT AND ASSOCIATE DEAN ACADEMIC AFFAIRS

UNIVERSITY OF MARYLAND GLOBAL CAMPUS EUROPE Dr. Andrew D. Boone was appointed associate vice provost for UMGC Europe Academic Affairs in 2017, and is now associate vice president and associate dean. As senior academic officer, he provides leadership for all undergraduate and graduate programs in Europe. His primary goal is to ensure students receive quality learning experiences that provide them with the knowledge, skills, and abilities required to be competent professionals and citizens. Passionate about excellence in teaching, he also directs the management of the faculty corps who teach at over 50 sites across Europe and the Middle East.

His thoughtful leadership has shaped the academic achievements of thousands of students who have attended UMGC overseas. Beginning his career with the university in 1992, Dr. Boone taught throughout Germany and at the international campus in Schwäbisch Gmünd. Further, he held a number of administrative roles including an appointment as the department chair for business and economics.

In 2002, Dr. Boone transferred to UMGC Asia, where he taught in Korea, Iwakuni, and Tokyo. During his 15 year tenure in Asia, Dr. Boone assumed a variety of leadership roles such as academic director for business, management, and economics; area director for Korea; and two appointments as associate dean.

Dr. Boone's classroom acumen is second to none, having led statistics, math, economics, and business courses on two continents for the better part of three decades with UMGC. In addition, he has taught at Houston Community College, the University of Houston, and the University of North Carolina, Wilmington.

Dr. Boone holds a BS in Economics from the University of Arizona. Additionally, he earned an MS and a PhD in Economics from the University of Houston.

STANLEY J. DRAZEK TEACHING EXCELLENCE AWARD

Dr. Stanley J. Drazek (1918–96) joined University of Maryland Global Campus in 1948, one year after its founding. During more than 30 years at UMGC, he served successively as faculty member, director of the Baltimore division, dean, and chancellor.

One of Dr. Drazek's lifelong interests was excellence in teaching. He worked hard to recruit exceptional faculty for UMGC, and he established programs to help teachers reach their full potential in the classroom. Because Dr. Drazek viewed teaching excellence as one of the university's core values, it is fitting that UMGC's Teaching Excellence Award is named in his honor.

Each year, this award is bestowed on faculty members who have been nominated by their students for their distinguished teaching. Two faculty members are being recognized today as this year's UMGC Europe recipients of the Stanley J. Drazek Teaching Excellence Award.

2020-2021 STANLEY J. DRAZEK TEACHING EXCELLENCE AWARD WINNERS

GRETCHEN KOENIG

COLLEGIATE ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR

FACULTY COORDINATOR, BEHAVIORAL SCIENCES Professor Gretchen Koenig's students regularly introduce themselves with, "Man, I put off writing until the last possible minute." With a smile, she always says, "You've come to the right place!" She delights in opportunities to help students gain skills to become better writers and communicators. In the classroom, via chat, or email, Professor Koenig meets students where they are to help scaffold the learning process. One student wrote, "I have never had a professor that motivated me to the extent she did, while simultaneously challenging me to improve my writing."

Teaching is not just a vocation for Professor Koenig; it is the extension of her own passionate desire to know the world around her and to better communicate what she finds. For her, teaching is a process of conveying a sense of wonder and inquiry for life, culture, and our circumstances. "Being a good educator requires that we pay more attention to our student's abilities and comprehension than to a particular schedule or lesson plan," she notes. Professor Koenig believes that practical application and personal interaction reaches students and opens doors to transformational learning.

Currently the faculty coordinator for behavioral sciences, Professor Koenig has taught writing and literature for nearly 15 years, including more than 4 years with UMGC. She's taught in Colorado, Virginia, Washington, Germany, Italy, Kazakhstan, Kuwait, Qatar, and the United Kingdom. Location hasn't been nearly as rewarding as her students' drive to learn. For example, one student told her, "Ma'am, I work 6-7, 12 hour shifts a week and usually just crash into bed, but I look forward to these classes so much. They are the only place I can have a thoughtful conversation about topics that matter. Thank you for being here."

After receiving her BS in English, Professor Koenig earned an MA in English Education and Writing from Longwood University, finished coursework for a doctorate of English at Indiana University of Pennsylvania, and recently completed an MFA in Creative Writing at Southern New Hampshire University.

MALCOLM D. MAGEE COLLEGIATE PROFESSOR

"The teacher and the course are simply superb," is how one student described Dr. Malcolm D. Magee. "He presented the course in a unique way that kept the class interested in the topic. It was obvious that he is an expert in this field of study and knew the importance of impacting students," wrote another. Influencing thousands of students over the years with lectures that are "super interesting and relevant," Dr. Magee has taught over 40 different types of classes ranging from world history to international relations, American government, and moral issues in philosophy. Students learn about a specific topic and gain knowledge that is applicable to any major.

Crucial to Professor Magee's teaching philosophy is a lesson he learned at a very young age. He explains, "My father told me that there is no one who doesn't know something you do not." Approaching teaching with this in mind, there is a symbiotic nature to his relationship with his students—they learn from him and he learns from them. He takes a keen interest in getting to know his students. His classes are grounded in mutual respect, humor, and encouragement.

Always finding ways to encourage students, he teaches them that making mistakes is a critical part of the learning process. Fostering an environment where students have the "freedom to be wrong," he also allows them to re-do work to support depth of learning and class goals.

In 2004, Dr. Magee received his PhD in history, philosophy, and American religious history from Michigan State University. Since then, he has pursued specialty areas including American religions, progressive era politics, and 19th century political thought, as well as taught at a variety of universities. He has written and reviewed multiple books and publications, lecturing extensively around the world. Joining UMGC Europe in 2018 as a collegiate professor, he is the former executive director for the Institute for the Study of Christianity and Culture and serves as the board advisor for the Visible School Music and Arts College.

BACHELOR'S DEGREE GRADUATES

HONORS CANDIDATES

ACADEMIC HONORS for excellence in scholarship are determined from the cumulative grade point averages of undergraduate baccalaureate students who have completed 30 or more credits with University of Maryland Global Campus. Students may earn the distinctions of cum laude, magna cum laude, and summa cum laude, to signify graduation with honor, high honor, and highest honor, respectively. Sometimes called graduation honors, these traditional academic designations are awarded at the time a baccalaureate degree is conferred.

The distinction of cum laude honors is conferred on those students with a cumulative grade point average of 3.8 to 3.9, magna cum laude is conferred on those students with a grade point average of 3.901 to 3.999, and summa cum laude is conferred on those students with a grade point average of 4.0.

Students who have earned these honors wear cords as part of their academic regalia for the commencement ceremony: white cords indicate cum laude honors, blue cords indicate magna cum laude, and gold cords indicate summa cum laude.

UMGC is proud to recognize all honors candidates for the Class of 2021.

* Summa Cum Laude 🛛 💠 Magna Cum Laude 🛛 ★ Cum Laude

As final action cannot always be taken by the time this program is printed, the list of honors and May candidates is tentative. University of Maryland Global Campus reserves the right to add and withdraw names once all final grade point averages have been calculated.

ACADEMIC DRESS

THE GOWNS worn by participants in today's procession indicate which academic degrees they hold. At the bachelor's level and above, the gown is usually black, but some universities use colored gowns. At UMGC, doctoral candidates wear red gowns; master's and bachelor's candidates wear black, and associate degree candidates wear the traditional light-gray gown.

The style of sleeve connotes the level of achievement: straight-bottomed sleeves indicate the associate and bachelor's degree; longer, dangling sleeves, the master's degree; and fuller, round sleeves the doctorate.

The gown worn by those who have earned a doctorate is faced with velvet and has three bars of the same material across the sleeves; the facing and bars can be either black, blue, or a color matching the field in which the degree is earned.

Hoods are lined with the colors of the school granting the degree. The velvet border of the hood indicates the discipline. The hood for the doctorate has distinguishing panels and is longer than that for the master's degree. Hoods are not usually worn for the bachelor's or associate degrees at UMGC. Bachelor's degree recipients who have earned honors for outstanding scholarship wear cords as part of their academic regalia—gold for summa cum laude, blue for magna cum laude, and white for cum laude. These honors are awarded to students at UMGC with a grade point average of 3.800 and higher.

The standard cap is the mortarboard, which is usually the same color as the gown. At UMGC, tassels worn by candidates for degrees below the doctoral level are worn on the right and are moved—with great fanfare to the left at the end of the ceremony.

The regalia worn by the university president is uniquely designed for each institution. Presidential robes have four bars of velvet across the sleeves, generally piped in a contrasting color, and may have velvet panels down the front. The UMGC president's gown is red with black velvet facing and gold piping to represent the university's colors.

ACADEMIC DEGREES

A DEGREE is awarded for successfully completing a course of study. U.S. colleges and universities now confer more than 1,600 types of academic degrees.

The first degree recorded in history was a doctorate conferred by the University of Bologna in the middle of the twelfth century. Originally, the doctor's and master's degrees were used interchangeably, each indicating that the holder was qualified to give instruction to students. The bachelor's, or baccalaureate, degree indicated only entrance upon a course of study preparatory to a doctorate or mastership. Gradually, however, the bachelor's degree came to signify the successful completion of a level of advanced study preparatory to the higher degrees.

The associate degree originated at the University of Chicago, which began awarding them in 1900. Today's associate degree is typically awarded after two years of study and is often composed of coursework that may be applied toward a bachelor's degree.

In North America, the Bachelor of Arts (BA) was first conferred in 1642, on the nine young men who constituted the first graduating class of Harvard College. Yale conferred its first Bachelor of Arts in 1702; Princeton, in 1748; William and Mary, in 1753; Pennsylvania, in 1757; and Columbia, in 1758. The Bachelor of Science (BS) was awarded to four graduates of Harvard's class of 1851; they were probably the first from any institution to receive that degree. Women in the United States first received baccalaureate degrees in 1841, when three women graduated from Oberlin College.

The master's degree has passed through various stages since its origin in the Middle Ages. During most of the first two centuries of U.S. collegiate history, the only master's degree awarded was the classic Master of Arts (MA). The University of Michigan offered the first Master of Science (MS) in 1858.

Throughout the nineteenth century, the Doctor of Philosophy (PhD) degree gained status in both Europe and North America. The first earned doctorates in the United States were awarded to three students at Yale in 1861. The Johns Hopkins University was founded for graduate studies in 1876, after which more universities developed doctoral programs in varied disciplines but with requirements similar to the PhD.
